

PUBLIC LEDGER

FIFTH YEAR.

MAYSVILLE, KY., TUESDAY, AUGUST 11, 1896.

ONE CENT.

LARGEST IN THE CITY.

Purely Business!

The columns of a newspaper represent a cash value. No publisher can afford to give advertising "notices" free any more than a merchant can toss over his counter free gifts of dry goods or shoes. A newspaper is a legitimate business concern. Its columns are its stock in trade, and advertisements should be paid for, no matter in what part of the paper they appear.

The Continued Calls

upon The Ledger for free notices have become so burdensome that we are forced to publish the following terms:

For Notices of Suppliers, excursions, fairs, or other public entertainments where a fee is charged, and for obituary notices, resolutions of respect, etc., The Ledger will charge FIVE CENTS A LINE, and hereafter this will be the invariable rule. This, however.

Does Not Include

notices of Lodge meetings or Church services, which must not exceed ten lines.

Avoidance of Disputes.

Misunderstandings are unpleasant. The rate for Business Leads in The Ledger is 10 cents a line for the first insertion and 5 cents for each subsequent insertion. A customer orders a five-line local insertion in the paper. "I'll tell you when to take it out," he says to the bookkeeper. The bookkeeper gets all about it. The notice runs for two months—10 lines at $1.00. When he finds it out there is a "kick" and a controversy, followed, probably by an icy letter. Now, to obviate this trouble, let The Ledger notice all local notices. Let's have a definite agreement at the outset and the termination will be pleasant and all around.

All matter for publication must be handed in before 9 o'clock in the morning of each day.

If you have friends visiting you, or if you are going away on a visit, please drop a note to that effect.

OH, WHAT A GAME!

COLONELS VS. KURNELS YESTERDAY.

And the Kurnels Outclassed the Tail-Enders—Errors Allowed Them to Score Five Times—The Game.

Talent, like beauty, is not always hereditary.

Life and its interests shift and change so rapidly in this age, you know.

And certain it is the aggregation of kickers, dirty ball players and miserable tail-enders in the big League have not acquired any of the talent of the old Louisville Baseball Club.

The high class daily newspapers of this country have told the people time and time again that these miserable make-outs didn't know how, and the exhibition given in this city yesterday afternoon settled that fact beyond a doubt.

And some of our citizens are trying to smooth it over with the old joke, "They didn't play their regular team!"

No; but they played a better one than their regular team.

Is there one who could have played better ball at third than Dexter? Could there have been a better game caught than the one McFarland played? Didn't "Porgy" Miller do his part? In fact, didn't the whole team play as best they knew how?

Then please do not give us that joke, as it is almost as stale as some of the eggs that are passing through the market at present.

After playing the game up to the ninth inning, when Maysville tied the score, the miserable quitters left the field, refusing to play their half of the inning, using for an excuse the fact that they wanted to catch the train. The game was then given to Maysville by a score of 10 to 0.

But the game!

Well, here it is!

Or rather the way the runs were made:

Tanner, the first man up to the plate, hit one to the right field fence, lost the ball, in fact, and made a home run. It was the first ball pitched up.

In the seventh, Sutherland hit past short for a base. Honeyman hit to center for two bases. Lautenbach went out on a fly. Herman was scared and let Newton walk. Wadsworth struck out. Cox hit over second for two, scoring Sutherland and Honeyman. Kellner went out, Herman to Cassidy.

In the eighth, Jimmie Curie lost the ball over first and ran before they found it, the rest of the battery going out in order.

In the ninth, Newton hit to left for a home run, but the dirty playing of Cassidy in holding him at first prevented him from making it around, he having to be contented with a three-bagger, and then Wadsworth smashed a beauty out to center for two bases, scoring Newton, Cox out, Herman to Cassidy. Kellner hit to right for one. Wadsworth started to third and made it, but thinking he could make home misjudged the ball and was caught at third, Kellner taking second on the throw. Curie hit a pop up to Miller, who missed it, Kellner taking third. Shepard out, Rogers to Cassidy.

Tanner was taken out of the game after the second inning, Sutherland going to second, Cox to first and Henry Wadsworth to center, who proved to be a regular good one. Henry has lost none of his fielding abilities, while his batting eye has improved wonderfully.

But the listless, tireless playing of the local team was not in keeping with their good behavior on the diamond heretofore, and if they would only go in determined to win Newton would shut out any of them, as yesterday proved, the Louisvilles only hitting him safely six times.

Here's the way they got their runs:

In the second, McFarland popped up an easy one to Tanner, who missed it, and stole second and third on a miserable throw. Miller singled to left, scoring McFarland, and Miller scored on Cassidy's roll down to Tanner that he missed, while Cassidy scored on Cunningham's roll down to Tanner that he missed.

And then in the eighth, Herman walked. Dexter hit to right for a base, and Sutherland, in trying to catch Herman at third, threw wild and Herman scored, Dexter taking third. McCreery bunted and Dexter scored, the other batters going out in apple pie order.

The following is the score:

It is to be hoped that the next time the boys attempt to play a League Club they will go in determined to win out at all hazards, and not mope around like they were in a trance.

Yesterday afternoon they actually played as listless, lifeless a game as it was possible to play, and there was no excuse for it, either.

Play ball, boys!

The remains of the infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Moore of Springfield were interred at Bethany Sunday.

It is surprising the number of people who had despaired of getting Glasses until they tried P. J. Murphy the Jeweler's system of fitting the eyes, who now see as well as when they were young. No charge for Glasses unless they suit.

Dr. and Mrs. P. Gordon Sumner, Mr. and Mrs. James V. Kackley and Mrs. Thomas M. Russell left here Sunday for Louisville at 5 a. m. on their wheels, and arrived in Frankfort, a distance of ninety-four miles, Sunday night—nearly making a century in a day's riding.

The funeral of Mrs. Laura Vanarsdel, who died yesterday morning at her home near Flemingburg, will occur tomorrow morning at 9:30 from the residence, services being conducted by Rev. Cleon Keys and Rev. M. B. Adams of Lewisburg. Interment in the Flemingburg Cemetery.

YESTERDAY'S CONVENTION.

The 16-to-1ers Had a Regular Old-Time Love Feast.

Some time ago there was a Democratic Convention held in this city to select Delegates for the State Convention, which sent Delegates to the National Convention at Chicago.

That Convention was gold, and 18 karat at that.

Yesterday afternoon there was another Convention, this time to select and instruct Delegates to the Congressional Convention that meets in this city at the Opera-house tomorrow.

This Convention was just to the opposite of the other Convention, as the one yesterday was a 18 to 1 Silver Convention in every respect.

If there were any gold bugs in the house they had their "lights hid under a bushel" and were as dumb as the stately oak of the forest.

Yesterday's Convention must have been held in some private office some day, judging from the way the proceedings proceeded.

Mr. John W. Alexander, County Chairman, called the meeting to order, and Mr. John C. Lovel, Secretary, called the roll of Precincts, all being represented except Fernleaf.

The next thing in order was the election of a Permanent Chairman.

Bon. Addison P. Gooding of Maysville was nominated, and there being no further nominations he was elected unanimously.

He mounted the platform and stated that the object of the Convention was to select Delegates to the Convention that would meet in the Opera-house Wednesday and name the next Congressman.

Of course, there was great applause to this lack of his bonnet.

Editors M. F. Marsh, George W. Oldham and Sam Stairs were elected Secretaries.

Some one moved that the Chair appoint three committees—one on Credentials, one on Resolutions and one to Select Delegates—which carried.

Chairman Gooding then appointed—On Credentials—C. D. Newell, Dan Perrine, Joseph F. Walton.

On Resolutions—George W. Sulser, A. E. Cole, James Cahill.

On Delegates—E. L. Worthington, Dr. James Shackelford, James Wilson.

In their haste the Committee on Resolutions forgot to wait until the Committee on Credentials had reported, and brought in the following mess:

Resolved, That the Democracy of Mason county, in Convention assembled, do hereby most heartily endorse the Democratic platform adopted at Chicago, and pledge our support to it and the candidates of the party—Bryan and Sewall—for President of the United States.

Resolved, That Warren LaRue Thomas is our choice for Congress from this District, and the Delegates to the Congressional Convention are instructed to vote for and to use all honorable means to secure his nomination, and vote as a unit on all matters coming before said Convention.

Then the Committee on Credentials reported that everything was all right, even Fernleaf having been filled in.

After a short pause the Committee on Delegates then read off the list of those who should act as Delegates tomorrow. There were about all the names of those men who have voted within the last ten years on the list, and then some one moved that the names of all good Democrats be added, which was done.

Mr. John L. Whitaker then announced the ball game.

Mr. W. LaRue Thomas made a few remarks, and the Convention unconvened.

Six weeks ago I suffered with a very severe cold, was almost unable to speak. My friends all advised me to consult a physician. Noticing Chamberlain's Cough Remedy advertised in The St. Paul Pioneer-Press I procured a bottle, and after taking it a short while was entirely well. I now most heartily recommend this remedy to anyone suffering with a cold.

Of successful experience in the manufacture of Watch Movements and Watch Cases, and with the mechanical knowledge gained in the construction of special machinery and tools necessary for the manufacture of watches, we have reason to believe that no factory in the world is better able to produce a bicycle of superior design and workmanship. Our machinery is the finest and most modern in existence. Our workmen are trained to a greater degree of accuracy than is usually observed in any bicycle factory. Where is the bicycle factory that is capable of producing a machine made equal to a Duober-Hampden Watch or machinery required to manufacture same?

These Bicycles, as well as a full line of the Duober-Hampden Watches, can be seen at BALLENGER'S.

TWO ALARMS.

One at 4:30 P. M. and the Other at 10:30 P. M.

There was excitement galore in Maysville yesterday afternoon and evening.

The Democratic Convention, the baseball game, and to wind up the whole proceedings right there was a fire.

About 4 p. m. several gentlemen stepped into Parker's picture factory to have their faces transferred to cardboard.

They were smoking when they entered and must have laid a cigar down on a piece of scenery, as the fire was first discovered in the photograph gallery.

The loss is considerable, but not as yet known.

Mr. Parker is absent,—at the bedside of his dying mother,—and until he returns it will be impossible to ascertain the extent of the loss.

The alarm of fire last night was occasioned by a small blaze issuing from the Harvey Bratton residence near the U. and O. Depot, caused by a flying spark from a locomotive. Damage slight.

Ellie Witty, whose leg was broken by a horse kicking him right in the East-end door of the county, is improving rapidly.

Miss Sudie M. B. Schatzm, who has been quite ill during her stay at Ruggles Campmeeting, was able to return home yesterday.

A horse belonging to Mr. O. H. Trumbo of near Springdale became entangled in a wire fence Sunday morning, nearly severing one of its legs.
